

Women in Engineering Lunch Discussion

MONTHLY SERIES

Join us for a lunch discussion with Kathleen Perkins

Friday, April 19th 2013

11:45 AM – 12:45 PM

108 Goergen

To follow, Ms Perkins will give a talk in 109 Goergen starting at 1 PM on the steps all technical graduates should consider to start their career more effectively

Kathleen Perkins is the Chair of the BIO5 Institute at the University of Arizona and is recognized for her original thinking and leadership in the international optics community. Through branding and business outreach, Perkins has drawn attention to the broad applications of optics. She worked at BRO from 1995 to 2007 and, as a vice president of Sales and Marketing and later CEO, she helped the company to increase its 2003 revenue by more than 75% the following year.

Brown bag lunch: bring your own lunch and join in the discussion!
Topics of discussion will include career options and job search advice.

All faculty and students (graduate and undergraduate) are welcome!
